STAR GAZE

Altona hockey player
and general good guy Ross Ford gets married at the weekend.

A few of his mates gave him a buck's turn last Friday night. Poor Ross, I bet he's wondering whether the tar and feathers he was given will wear off in time for the big day.

Contrary to rumor local organisations do not have to pay to put contributions in the Altona Star.
It's merely a matter of ringing 398 2277 or nipping down to 108 Pier Street, Altona, (just across the railway line) and to Gary Smith.

No wonder the kids in Altona turn to vandalism.
A couple of young bucks were seen last Saturday night riding the train between Altona and Newport.

On arrival at Newport they jumped out of the wrong side of the train to the opposite platform, in time to catch the next train.

Presumably they repeat the trick until they get bored or someone gets killed.

On the subject of boredom, why doesn't someone start a dance or activity and cash in on the kids and give them something to do. Local police sergeant Harry Day said it would be a good idea for insurance companies to support local groups for the same reason they support the fire brigade financially. After all its vandalism.

90th birthday

Mrs. Edith Fonteneau celebrated her 90th birthday with her friends in the Altona Elderly Citizens' Club, who gave her a special party on Friday.

Mrs. Fonteneau, of Peach Street, Altona, has six children, 16
grandchildren, 32
great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

Her late husband,
George, who was a Frenchman, worked as a mechanic at Point Cook when Australia's first air force started.

She has lived in Altona for the past 30 years.

STATION APPROACH POOR

People who use the Paisley Station are faced with two alternatives — both of them unpleasant.

They can either walk to the station through ankle deep mud or brave the speeding traffic along Miller's Road.

There is no sealed footpath leading to Paisley Station.

A mud track has been tramped along the nature strip by commuters.

When The Star saw the track, the mud was slushy and ankle deep in some places.

The alternative to reach the station and avoid the mud was to walk along Miller's Road.

This is not recommended for the faint-hearted, as cars brush

past at speeds in excess of 50 miles-an-hour.

Annoyed commuters
who use the station daily have rung The Star to complain about the lack of facilities.

On rainy days, they are faced with a 100-yard dash through an area with no cover at all.
One slip and they are faced with a mud-bath.

They say it's too dangerous to walk on the verge of Miller's Road
when the weather is bad
and visibility is poor.

They add that it's dangerous, even at the best of times.

They're not satisfied with the condition of the actual station either.

Neither the platform

nor a 50-yard path leading to it are sealed.

But one resident said:
"At least the screenings
help take the mud off your shoes."

$1500 GRAB

Thieves netted $1500 in cash from a safe breaking at Sitch's Bus Lines, Slogh Road, Altona, at the weekend.

Police say that the thieves broke an office window and removed an oxy-acetylene set from a nearby workshop.

The money, in calico bags in the safe, was the company's week's takings.

Williamstown CIB say they have no clue as to the identity of the breakers.

THIEVES TAKE CARPETS WORTH OVER $500

Thieves knocked a six feet x six feet hole in the wall of Carpet Bazaar at the weekend and escaped with more than $500 worth of carpets and rugs.

The building, owned by barber Mr. Harry Edwards, a half occupier of the building was entered from a disused laneway, parallel to the Pier Street
walkthrough.

This is Mr. Edwards
22nd robbery in his 35
years of business.

The robbed shop had been opened for less than a month when the thieves struck, stealing rugs valued up to $60 each.

After entering the premises the thieves tried to enter the adjoining barber shop by ripping the masonry from the wall and removing the bricks.

They were stopped by a
large heavy steel door,

which once gave access to both shops.

The barber shop had some $4000 worth of gifts.

Proprietors of Carpet
Bazaar, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Feeney said the property was insured.

Meeting of interest to all 'Grade 6 parents'

Of interest to all Altona parents with children in sixth grades will be the meeting at the Altona North Technical School on Tuesday, July 6.

Speakers will be the principals of all the local secondary schools, who will talk about the problems and needs of prospective students.

Altona Technical School has suffered the loss of two teachers this term, Mrs. Esmore and Mr. Prytlyaga.

Mrs. Esmore has resigned and Mr. Prytlyaga will leave for an indefinite stay in Yugoslavia.

A new portable classroom has been installed at the school.

BROOKLYN PRIMARY. Brooklyn State School is understaffed this week due to three teacher illnesses. The principal himself, is teaching.

One of the teachers, Miss C. M. Trown, is in Geelong Hospital recovering from an ear operation. Students and staff have sent goodwill messages to her. It is not known when she will return to the school.

The school has been having its share of bad luck. One of the students fractured his skull when he fell off the back of a truck during a bottle drive recently.

Another boy broke his leg when he fell over and will be in hospital for three months. One of the mothers visiting the school fell ill and had to be taken away by ambulance.

Others news from the school is that Brooklyn will lose their librarian, Mrs. B. A. Heesh, in July. Mrs. Heesh will be on confinement leave.

The school's Mothers' Club met last week.

One of the rooms at the school will soon be converted into a speech therapy centre for the western suburbs.

The principal, Mr. P. G. Morris, said that the Board of Works had inspected the room.

to the Board of Works for approval. It is hoped that the building can begin soon.

In sport the school has been relatively successful.

In netball the first defeated Seaholme State 10-8 while the seconds lost 9-8 in a close game. In the football against Seaholme, the firsts won and the seconds lost.

The school gardener, Mr. Antonoff, has been quite busy with the help of the parents the gar-successful, even though, the students and staff would like to thank Mr. Norm Boyd and the Altona council for their work on the school gardens and recreation areas.

Everyone at the school appreciated the pleasant surroundings, he said. Also extensive site works have been planned for the school.

ST. MARY'S
St. Mary's will play in a lightning football and netball premiership at Werribee on Sunday.

mothers' club will meet on June 7, at 8 p.m., the parents and citizens on June 9, and the advisory council on June 17.

The advisory council will be elected at the meeting. Nominations close on June 10, at 4 p.m., and forms are available from the principal.

The Richard McGill Hall and the new science wing have been opened in early second term.

Mrs. Jones, one of the office staff, has resigned. Mr. Roberts said the Education Department had told him she would not be replaced as insufficient money was available.

ST. PAUL'S
Another in the series of lectures The psychological, sociological and spiritual development of the human person will be held next Wednesday at eight o'clock in the Mt. St. Joseph school hall.

The aim of the camp was to have specialist teachers help students and for the completion of geographical assignments. Two teachers attended the camp.

On the business side of the school, the

AROUND THE SCHOOLS

The school was also visited this week by an investigator from the Australian Council of Educational Research, who is studying the assimilation of migrant children in Australia.

Several students were chosen to complete tests for the study.

ALTONA PRIMARY
Grade five teacher, Mr. Ken Sargeant, returned to the school this week after a three-month long-service leave, most of it in Queensland.

The school's deputy principal, Mr. B. S. Proud, has been appointed principal of Sunshine East State School. He will take up his appointment from February, 1972.

ALTONA WEST PRIMARY

The results of the pupils fund raising last term totalled over $350. A mother's day stall raised $215 and special efforts by individuals and classes raised a further $150 for project care, at Footscray and District Hospital.

Architect Mr. Kevin Makin, has submitted plans for the new library den now looks quite beautiful.

The mothers' club will hold a progressive supper next week.

All parents are invited to attend.

An ex-teacher at the school, Mrs. Lorna Thomas, has presented her husband with a baby boy—Brian.

ALTONA EAST PRIMARY
The infant department of the school recently went to see a puppet show.

A working bee will be held on June 19 and 20. The object will be general maintenance and attending to the gardens.

ALTONA NORTH PRIMARY

The pupils have been busy fund raising, and last term succeeded in donating over $300 to the Royal Children's Hospital and the Chisdon Spastic Centre.

The annual mothers' club ball will be held on October 15 at Shirley Park Reception, Altona. Tickets are now available at $10 a double.

Leading the competition for the dux of the school award are Lillian Jankov, Stephen Vines, Terry Thomas, Lidia Azzopardi and Dale Murphy.

The school committee plans to plant trees and shrubs, extend the car park and level the ground in front of the school in the next working bee.

The result of the annual staff v. pupils netball resulted in a win for the staff, who were umpiring the game.

The principal (Mr. Madern), said the outcome of the game usually depends on who is umpiring.

ST. LEO'S
The recent beetle drive at the school was quite

They will enter three netball teams and a football team.

The school's parents and friends will meet at the school next Monday evening.

All parents and friends are invited to attend.

The school has had one addition to the staff in second term, she is Mrs. Busidoni.

Mrs. Busidoni teaches grade five.

The school is also looking for a qualified, emergency teacher. Children from grades three to six went to a puppet show last week and thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

BROOKLYN WEST PRIMARY

The new wing has been occupied in second term and the infant grades have settled into their new five rooms.

Another new feature within the school in second term has been the hobbies afternoon, on Thursday.

The children are spending an hour making toys, collecting stamps, painting and sculpting, and numerous other hobbies.

ALTONA HIGH.

The school will hold a walk soon to raise money for the new assembly hall.

Forms five and six school reports will be handed out in the third week of this month.

The remainder will be handed out in July. The principal, Mr. Shee, said this week that, contrary to rumors, there will be no changes being contemplated in school uniforms in 1972, save that the wearing of hats by girls will become optional.

Mr. Shee also said that

The Star received the following letter as a result of the front-page story on Altona's first major pollution meeting.
The letter read:
"We the committee of the Altona Pollution Abatement Association, congratulate The Star for taking pollution so seriously and giving our meeting front-page space.
We regret that the reporter found the meeting deficient in some respects but feel that in such a large group, there would certainly be a number who were not satisfied.
The committee accepts the criticism and hope to offer more action in the future.
We feel the report ignored the obvious strong anti-pollution sentiment shown by the large attendance, and the wealth of information on this enormous problem gained from speakers and question time.
We felt it was a pity that you featured a small misunderstanding between Mr. Alec Knight and a member of the audience, instead of the determined protests voiced against the pollution nuisance from which the residents of this city must suffer.
Some explanation is called for on the matter of the one nomination.
At the conclusion of the film, the president found himself without a microphone and with an audience standing up to go home.
He tried to state that he had only one new nomination other than the existing committee, and as there was one vacancy, and no other nominations forthcoming, he declared him elected.
The letter was signed by — E. Houstin — Chairman, K. Camberlain — Deputy Chairman, C. J. Harris — Treasurer, V. Shields — Secretary, H. Sanders, R. R. Glover, G. Said, K. E. Connon.

Val's Column

Hello, Girls,

May has seen an upsurge in wig sales and with the latest in wig styles still arriving, here is your chance to take advantage of a style just for you. Longed for shoulder length hair? Try on Debutante with its long luxuriant curls and waves brushing your shoulders. Almost requires no combing, sweeps straight back off the face — trick your friends, use a little of your own hair directly in front and they'll never guess its a wig.

For the "Mods" there is Piccadilly — short cropped top which frames the face and long long back and sides. It can be worn in pigtails, plaited, or as a bun as well as its normal long casual look, it's as the name suggests, a London Dolly look. For a wig that suits all ages and can be adapted to many styles — Jackie. Softly waves and so easily styled off the face or with a fringe — a long tapered neckline gives a nice finishing touch to Jackie. Then there is a cute "spare hair" item — the first breakthrough in synthetic accessories. They clip-on. They add instant glamor, or blend in to give added height or thickness. Three lengths — the shortest is great as a bun, or for giving height. The middle length is extremely versatile — comb it into loops or just brush into your own hair for greater fullness. The long one is a ready made pony-tail or can be teamed with long hair for extra thickness — and a real breakthrough. No more headaches or pressure — just ask for the two-and-a-half. Yes, just 2½ years of wig, extremely light because of a new wig base and fibre. Style wise and color wise this wig is the mature woman's dream.

For your own hair styling — now to neaten the neckline, flatten the fringe, or make the tidiest cheek curl — hair styling tape. The newest method for styling specially developed to set hair quickly and without discomfort. Sticks firmly to your hair and skin yet releases easily and cleanly, leaving no sticky feeling. Try hair styling tape today and get a better finish to your set.

Bye.

From the Bookshelf

Each month this column will feature some of the more entertaining books being added to the Altona City Library and some older titles which members of the staff have enjoyed reading. This month we wish to begin by drawing attention to three new books written for young people which are recommended also to all the "oldies" who struggle to communicate with the young.

By
Cynthia Partridge
Altona City
Librarian

The Thundering Good Today, by Couper, shows us what it is like to be a young 20-year-old Australian faced by the threat of National Service.

Ian Guthrie and his migrant friend, Limp, battle against the law and against their consciences in an attempt to find some solution to the question of what to do about a law which they consider to be unjust.

Pennington's Seventeenth Summer, by Peyton, is the story of a student rebelling against having to do what his teachers, his parents and even the law force him to do.

His reckless behavior has him in serious trouble and he is saved only by his determination and his ability to see, finally, that not all adults are out to destroy his spirit and make him conform.

My Darling, My Hamburger, by Zindel, is a powerfully written book, set in the USA, which highlights the problems adolescents face in growing up — especially how to deal with sexual desire.

Driven by parents who lack understanding or trust, Liz and Sean are faced by the problem of Liz's pregnancy and the book ends as in real life with misery and disillusionment.

In all three books the characters are thoroughly convincing. They are young people of the 1970s.

Laborers in the Vineyard, Colin Thiele's new novel tells the story of a community of vinegrowers living in South Australia, a simple, honest God-fearing people of German descent.

The story centres around Kurt Neilson, a stranger, whose disregard for many of the old traditions causes much gossip among the people.

Readers will appreciate the earthy humor of the locals and the absorbing narrative.

Birds, Beasts and Relatives. Not as new as the others, but don't miss it if you enjoy Gerald Durrell.

It is a sequel to My Family and Other Animals and, if possible, funnier.

Gerald's adventures collecting specimens of animal life are just as absorbing and amusing as ever and his factual descriptions of animal behavior never tedious.

THEY ALWAYS CATCH THE 'Big Un'

Mr. Ken Wise, who takes fishing parties on day-long angling trips, believes that some fish will never learn.

He told the Star "It often happens that the fish I catch breaks the line and gets away."

"Then I go back the next day and catch exactly the same fish."

"I know it sounds incredible, but I know it's the same fish because it still has the line in its mouth."

He added: "That's a true one but when you hear the size if it, you have to take it with a grain of salt."

"There is a saying that all fishermen are liars except you and I, and I even have doubts about you."

"But showing off is half the fun in catching them."

Shark 12ft.

Mr. Wise, of Station Street, Seaholme has caught several sharks over the years, the biggest of which was 12 feet long.

This is true, he has pictures to prove it.

His father, Mr. Thomas Wise, kept a fleet of nine hire boats in 1939.

Later their number rose to 13, but they all sank one stormy night.

Mr. Wise said: "You have to treat the sea with a lot of respect and caution."

"This side of the Bay has dangerous winds and the sensible fisherman moves towards home at the first sign of trouble."

"Even an experienced fisherman, like Mr. Evan Davies, of St. Kilda, drowned here a couple of years ago."

"There haven't been any sharks for the past two or three years because of the scarcity of snapper in the Bay."

"We pull up some odd things too. Fishing rods, anchor chains and beer bottles that have been in the sea for many years."

"Once I caught a poisonous dogfish which had been washed down all the way from Queensland."

"During an eight-hour fishing trip, we catch up to 1000 flathead in eight hours with 15-20 men on board."

"I get about 300-400 flathead myself. By best catch of snapper was in 1962, when I caught 279 in one day."

"They weighed 1000 lbs. I've never been able to repeat that."

Mr. Wise has two boats, a 38' and a 30' which he uses during the week when he takes fewer people.

It costs $3 to go on a fishing trip.

He added: "You can only sell fish if you're a professional fisherman with a licence. We take ours home and eat them."

"I take special trouble to bring the right bait. Mussels to fish whiting, for example."

"But the fish break all rules."

"You take along your bait for whiting and catch snapper with it. Some of them even bite on a bit of rag."

"I think it's 99 per cent. luck and one per cent. skill."

Mr. Wise takes mostly the same people, including members of the Yarraville Angling Club.

Mr. Joe Duckworth, Mr. Ben Olson and Mr. Les Thompson have been regularly for over 20 years.

THEY MET AS HE MARCHED AWAY

● Mr. and Mrs. Farrington with their wedding photograph and some of the cards they received.

A note, thrown to a soldier marching off to war — and 55 years later a Golden Wedding celebration.

And for Mr. and Mrs. Horace Farrington, of Jobson Street, they've been long and happy years.

The Farringtons celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on May 28 — with a surprise party which was identical in many respects to their wedding reception in 1921.

One of the train-bearers even had the tiny dress she wore that day on display.

The Farringtons' courtship was anything but conventional.

Daisy was working in a factory along the route the men marched to Port Melbourne to embark for Egypt in 1916. Along with the other girls, she threw a note with her name and address to the soldiers.

And Horace wrote back to her.

They corresponded for a couple of years and exchanged photographs.

Daisy got to know his family — long before she met Horace.

They were engaged about four months after Horace returned, and married a couple of years later.

The Farringtons have four children still living, 17 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

And they are not ashamed to admit they are both in their 80th year.

They had a farm at Cobden for many years.

They moved there three days after they were married, and brought up their children there.

The life wasn't easy. They had just struggled through the Depression when their house was destroyed by fire.

But they are both philosophical about the hardships they faced, because they always won in the end.

Mr. Farrington was born in Williamstown, where his father was a well-known navy man.

Mr. Farrington senior left the Royal Navy to join the Victorian Navy about 85 years ago.

The Farringtons now live in his house in Jobson Street.

Mr. Farrington is a TPI, and suffers chest trouble caused by gas in the first world war.

But he fought in the second world war as well.

He wasn't going to be beaten by his two eldest sons, who both fought.

Meanwhile the Farringtons are looking forward to their Diamond Wedding celebrations.

Helping hand for the "Kids"

The Government squeeze on finance for hospitals is making it hard for local hospital auxiliaries.

Members of the Williamstown branch of the Royal Children's Hospital auxiliary are finding the going tough — especially as the hospital is planning two additional storeys.

Many people do not realise Williamstown has its own Children's Hospital auxiliary.

But this dedicated band of 16 women is one of the most successful auxiliaries the hospital has.

Mrs. Margaret Barber, of Railway Place, is serving her third year as president of the local branch.

She estimates it is 15 years since she started working for the children.

She went to a meeting with some friends and has been a member of the branch ever since.

War

The branch secretary, Mrs. Jean Evans, of Anzac Crescent, had a different reason for joining.

Her cousin, Margaret Adams, was a nurse aboard a hospital ship sunk during the last war.

She had nursed at the Royal Children's Hospital and memorial prizes are now presented three times a year to nurses there.

Mrs. Barber told the Advertiser many people became interested in the hospital after relatives or friends were treated there.

She said the Williamstown branch recently received a large cheque from a couple, whose grandchild's life had been saved at the hospital.

The branch holds meetings on the third Monday in each month, and tries to have at least one money-making venture every month.

Parties

These include coffee parties, street stalls and excursions.

With so few members, the branch relies heavily on friends to support social functions and make them a financial success.

The next coffee party is on June 16 and will cost 50 cents to join.

Usually between 40 and 50 friends of the hospital come along to these functions.

Mrs. Lindsay Plant, president of the entire hospital auxiliary, will speak at the next coffee party.

Cards

There are 64 branches of the Royal Children's Hospital Auxiliary and Williamstown is in the top 10 each year for raising money by selling Christmas cards.

Past-president, Mrs. Simmons, of Victoria Street, is responsible for organising the card selling.

The branch takes on "special projects".

In July, 1968, it decided to pay for a dental unit for the hospital.

This cost $2354, and was paid for by June last year.

It is now working towards an intensive care incubator which will cost about $2200.

Mrs. Barber said raising money for special projects was the best way for the branch to operate.

It gave members incentive, and they could see what their money had bought.

Most branches of the auxiliary undertook projects like this.

Stalls

The best money-making ventures of the year are the two street stalls, held in May and November.

Last month's stall raised $180 — although it rained most of the day!

The youngest member of the branch is still at school.

Mrs. Evans' daughter, Heather, has just joined, although her school work

Mrs. Barber (left) and Mrs. Evans examine a crocheted rug that will be sold at the next street stall in November.

The Railways, Hall Street and Barlow

One hundred years ago next January a young Englishman Isaac Barlow landed in Australia equipped with his savings and a pocketful of hope.

Later, in 1885, Australia was booming, to the tune of gold, punctuated by the steady beat of the carpenters hammer.

Boatloads of immigrants shilling a week pay were arriving from the old country seeking fame and fortune — mainly the latter. Isaac's offices wouldn't have met council specifications today. The shop front was just wide enough to hold a window, on which there was just room to write the owners name, and his business.

Land at that time was selling for around $20 a block, with a forty foot frontage. Today the blocks might sell for up to $7000. Initially sales were good, up to 20 in a year, but later in the early 1900s the boom was over and the average was two. One year the company sold one block.

Since Isaac had landed in Australia he had worked his way up from office boy to manager with a Ballarat wool broking firm. He decided to go it alone, and acquired a property, next door to an old Newport landmark, the Junction Hotel, roughly where the ANZ bank now stands in Hall Street.

Hall Street Newport was a busier road then than it is now.

A photo kept by the present owner Isaac's grand son Jim Barlow shows horse drawn vehicles passing in front of a mudbrick early Australian Junction, Hotel prior to its first extensions. Like a scene from the wild west, the horses are tethered outside and a few gentlemen have posed, sporting their typically English bowlers.

And the boys were probably in the back room having a quiet, but somewhat smoky game of poker, separating the railway workers from their 10

Robert continued to learn the business until his father died in November 1940. Again at the end of the second world war following his father's practice Robert apprenticed his 16-year-old son Jim. After the war the area boomed again. Boatloads of immigrants, this time from Greece, Yugoslavia and Italy, looking for a quiet place untouched by war.

A place to bring up their children and give them an education. After sowing his wild oats, Jim returned to the company in 1948 after a two year absence. He added another facet to the business, auctioneering, which is still a part of the firm's activities, as are rentals and insurance.

Robert Barlow died in 1969 and Jim took over the business and moved to 19 Hall Street, just a few doors from the company's first office.

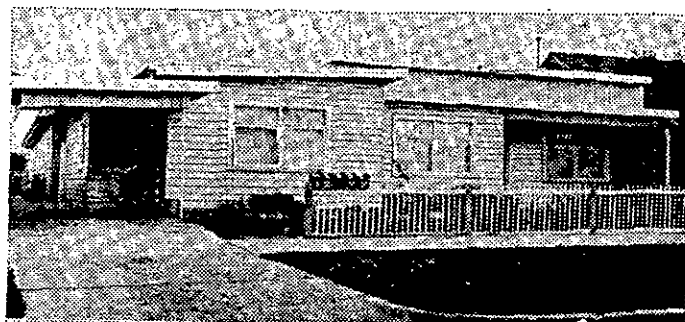

There is still a strong relation between the Barlow's, Hall Street and the railways. At their new office, just opposite Newport Station, hundreds of people call at the office, after leaving the station.

Mr. Isaac Barlow, the founder of I. Barlow and Sons, who have been associated with real estate in the western suburbs for 86 years, father and son. A man of vision.

NO FISH IN LAKE

Due to information from the Fisheries and Wildlife Department, Altona Council has decided not to stock Cherry Lake with fish.

The Department said that the lake was too shallow to support fish as during summer it would be less than three feet deep in the deepest point in the middle of the lake.

He has chocolate brown fur, gold eyes and answers to the name of Benge. And he's worth $300. Benge is a male Burmese stud cat. And until last week he was taking life easy for six weeks until his flight to Kuala Lumpur to start a new life on a stud farm. But, on Friday he disappeared from his May Street, North Altona home and he hasn't been seen since.

Benge's mistress, Mrs. Elizabeth Roper says: "At first we thought that he had found himself a girlfriend but he has been away too long for that. "It looks as though he has found somebody else to love and has stayed with them — he is a very affectionate cat."

BIG SOCCER WIN TO MAROONS

What a shock Yallourn got when they played Altona City at Kim's Reserve on Saturday.

The Altona boys generated a power that would have made the SEC happy.

Ninety minutes of non-stop running by 11 men in maroon, had the large crowd bubbling with excitement. Taking over from where they left off last week at Sunshine.

Human dynamos Ackers, Hearn and Herman did the spade work for Reid, Iordanus, and Micevski and how the two enjoyed the service. Ian Reid.

For the second week in a row Ian notched his hat-trick, each goal in itself was a beauty.

He beat man after man and then with ice cool, control slotted the ball past the helpless keeper.

Ian Hynes, Altona's captain must be pleased with his defence set-up.

Murray has improved out of sight since moving to left back, old man Jim Baylisy is back at his best while the flying Copley is over-lapping to perfection.

On a good ground, passes were in perfect to Jimmy Acker and Tommy Kean tool control of the mid-field.

Mickey Micevski, the brilliant left winger had the Yallourn defence in a mess. Iordanus the "Werribee Kid" was quick to make use of the thru ball; Herman is also capitalising on the quick pass. Both Herman and Iordanus were Victorian sprint champions and how they can tear a defence apart if given the right type of service.

Kean and Ackers are aware of this and smack the ball into the open space.

Ian Reid's two first half goals were results of this type of play.

With room to work "Reidy" is a striker worth watching and the crowd is building up as the Maroons go marching on their winning way.

In the second half, Altona didn't give Yallourn any chance to settle.

Copley, Murray and Baylisy pounced on every ball and Reid crashed home a goal that brought the house down.

Herman followed up good work by Micevski and thundered home goal four.

Stray binger the 15 year old link man was brought on for the injured Reid and Alex once again proved he is on the brink of making the big-time.

The final whistle saw Yallourn full of praise for the sporting way Altona played.

A great win by a great team, Altona are in the box seat lying in second place behind Elwood the league leaders.

The Maroons are hitting their straps at the right time.

The record breaking run by the RES. XI continued when they defeated Yallourn by 2-1 to take their tally to 10 games undefeated; 8 points clear at the top of the league.

John Innes is to be congratulated on the way he has harnessed the young boys into a hard workman like side.

Centre half John Collins is improving with every game. Elthien and Saxton and also first team material, and Charlie Neal must reckon he is the unluckiest player in the competition.

He has the happy knack of always hitting the post or the goalkeeper when it seems easiest to score.

It could be he's in too big a hurry.

Next week's game is at Springvale. Springvale are a youthful fast side.

Altona cannot afford to take any chances and will be out to demoralise them early in the game.

Lets hope Ian Reid's injury heals up in time for Saturday's game.

Good hockey win to Altona

By 'LINCOLN GREEN'

Altona's hockey team travelled to Ivanhoe on Saturday and turned on a brilliant display of hockey against the home team.

Playing on a new all weather ground, the A's adapted themselves very quickly to the gravel surface.

From the bully, it was evident that Altona were more than keen to register a win and move out of the relegation area.

The A's were unlucky not to have scored within the opening minutes of the game when a pass from Bruce Forrester found Shane Cronin in front.

His shot went over the net. Alan Baillie and Ian Bennett gave the A's a ton of support on the right side and continually forced the opposition backs into error.

Ross Ford was playing very constructive hockey and just failed to score when the ball deflected off his stick when in front of goal.

The supporters who travelled out to watch the A's must have found it hard to believe that they were watching the same team as in previous games this season.

Altona continued to apply pressure for the remainder of the first half and were very unlucky not to have netted three goals.

The final term saw the A's playing a brand of hockey that has been missing for some time.

Jeremy Hunter, Brian Smith and Dennis Bartlett played their half-back positions to perfection and instigated many brilliant forward moves.

Twenty minutes into the final half saw a good passage of play between Hunter, Cronin and Ford which resulted into a "penalty flick".

Forrester took the flick only to see the goalie save with a good drive to his right.

The A's followed up with a good hockey and forced many penalty corners but still were unable to score.

With just on eight minutes to the final whistle Altona forced yet another "penalty flick", this time Forrester made no mistake to give the A's a one goal lead.

With five minutes remaining, Altona continued to attack using the long thru game. Unfortunately this wasn't enough to win.

Ivanhoe forced a free hit outside, the circle area and scored, with just 30 seconds of play remaining.

This was very disappointing to the luckless Altona lads who were clearly the better side on the day.

The game itself was a terrific morale-booster for Altona and they will go on from here and register more points.

Every player more than held his own in this game, but one player who deserves a special mention was Allan Baillie, who completely nullified his very talented opposition forward.

Ian Bennett, playing in his second A grade game, did everything asked of him, and gave the side plenty of drive from the wing.

BEST: B. Forrester. S. Cronin, B. Smith.

Congratulations to Ross Ford on being chosen to represent Victoria in the Colts Championships, in Adelaide.

C GRADE

Altona, second on the ladder after last week's draw, were up against the unbeaten leaders, Fairfield.

The game in the first half was very even with both teams scoring a goal by half time. Shortly after the break, Altona were forced to make a few changes when one of the defence was injured.

Altona took a while to settle down but with R. Smith playing well at centre half and A. Willet steady in goals our forwards were given plenty of support.

Finally, A. Challis, who had been a driving force on the wing all day, centred the ball to R. Lukoszek, who put in a great goal, leaving Altona 2-1 up.

Best: A. Challis, R. Smith.

Goals: H. Doerner, R. Lukoszek.

D WEST

Altona were defeated by Glenroy at home 2-0.

The game was played under poor ground conditions and many scrambles developed.

Altona attacked on several occasions but could not find the net.

Through more systematic play Glenroy was able to pierce the Altona defence and forced in their two goals.

Best: G. Blunt, E. Hunter.

UNDER 16

In a spirited match Altona defended well to defeat Ivanhoe 1-0.

Ian Daley held the Altona side together in the first half with calm defensive hockey.

John Forrester was a key player and dominated a greater part of the defence.

Goal-keeper Robinson played well and stopped many good penalty corners.

UNDER 14

Altona obtained a position in the four by defeating Waverley 1-0 in appalling conditions.

For most of the game Altona were attacking and would have scored more goals, but for good defence by Waverley.

Goal: A. Relf.

Best: P. Symons, S. Smith, A. Relf, G. Studley.

Keen rugby round

Another keen round of rugby union was played by the Westgate last week, after settling down from their Sydney trip.

Applications for hall

Two applications to use the Sixth Avenue Methodist Church hall and ground were referred to committee at last week's Altona council meeting.

The applications were received from the Tripoli Social Club and the Ukrainian Association.

The city engineer, Mr. R. Simmons, said the acceptance of such proposals would require the approval of the hall's neighbors.
